St. Timothy

January 24, 1985

Dear Dr. Heller,

I have been asked to show, if possible, that the Novis Ordo Missae which is approved for use currently in the Conciliar Church is invalid. Recently we read in an issue of EINSICHT that it had given proof of the Novis Ordo's invalidity. Please be so kind as to tell me in which issue this proof might be found, preferably in either an English, Spanish or French translation. If you would care to add any further insights that you may have I would certainly appreciate them. Provisionally my arguments shall develop from a grammatical point of view. I wish to show that based on the context of the Novis Ordo consecrations the essential words of consecration are not declaratory. This being the case there is no consecration and no Transubstantiation.

We were saddened by the news of Archbishop Ngo's death on December 14, 1984. We only heard of it on January fourth and we still know very little about it. There apparently was an article in some French publication about his death which claimed he had been re-reconciled to the Novis Ordo, we of course question the authority of that assertion. May the Archbishop's soul rest in peace.

Give our regards to your wife and children and especially our friend Dr. Hiller.

I remain,

Sincerely in Christ,

Fra. Francois O.F.M.
